Description

Full-Stack Developer with the urge to work and with strong knowledge in what is being done which would provide clients and companies complete satisfaction. Well-versed in JavaScript, GitHub, NoSQL. Also recently became a Graduate of a bootcamp which has trained and provided me with the best work and up-to-date habits that the industry wants. As well as being very friendly and known for as a persistent worker and working well in group environments. Have experience working with people, seen by others as having natural leader skills as my program had projects in which we had to work with others to develop one application. Could be a good asset to a company and ready to learn.

Education

Full-Stack Web Developer Bootcamp Dec 2021 - Jun 2022
University of Miami, Miami
This program consisted of a 24-week teaching of the full-stack career which went over the most important skills that are used in this industry and to hone these skills to be work ready. This consisted of 20 hours of studying a week to keep up with the amount of rigorous work being put out and with 3 projects that were developed as a team which produced more team building skills that are essential to any job.

Employment

Target Sales Associate Apr 2021 - Aug 2022
Target, Miami
Worked as a Target associate in the fulfillment department which provided customers with their purchases a lot quicker. This department sped up the process of finding items in the store and would have the employees doing the shopping and having them ready by the time you enter the store. This position sharpened my thinking skills and provided me with lots of situations where we work as a group to solve problems
